Is Invincible

- Allende Bussi, Beatriz

"During my first trip to Cuba in 1960 I was lucky to attend, on August 7, the rally organized at the "Latinoamericano" baseball stadium where the American companies were nationalized. After seeing that people so determined, organized and consistent, I realized it was invincible. I was able to see the affection that existed between the people and Fidel when he lost his voice for some minutes. Everybody was worried that something could have happened to him. I will never forget about that rally.
