"For the first time in the history of Bolivia, Evo has built a significant hard currency reserve which now allows him to face up to the grave international financial crisis; in less than three years he has eradicated illiteracy in Spanish, Aymara and Quechua; he has made it possible for the entire poor population to enjoy a safe minimum income; he is recovering the energy sources and conquering for Bolivia the admiration of the world."

References to the original: The Bolivian Revolution and Cuba's Conduct, April 11, 2009

Source URL: http://www.fidelcastro.cu/en/citas/april-11-2009