

March 8, 2000

Published on FIDEL Soldier of Ideas (<http://www.fidelcastro.cu>)

"If it were not for the Cuban Adjustment Act, we would never have seen the emergence of this disturbing and criminal smuggling of human beings, which now uses techniques developed by drug traffickers, with speedboats equipped with three powerful outboard motors that no Coast Guard could intercept".

References to the original: Key remarks at the rally of youth and students marking the closing session of the 7th Congress of the Federation of Cuban Women. Havana International Conference Center, March 8, 2000

Source URL: <http://www.fidelcastro.cu/en/citas/march-8-2000-0?width=600&height=600>