

21 July 2005

Publicado en Fidel soldado de las ideas (<http://www.fidelcastro.cu>)

“Sometimes the ignorance in some far-off corner of the country is such that people don’t know that there is a social security service or that it is possible to receive the care needed; but, in fact, there is a team that finds these people, weighs them, measures their frame to check that they are of the right weight and size for their age group: these are the social workers.”.

Referencia al texto original: Speech given on the occasion of the sixth grade graduation ceremony of Primary Schools in Cárdenas, Matanzas, on 21 July 2005

URL de origen: <http://www.fidelcastro.cu/es/node/74726>